

BLEW UP A HOTEL

Discharged Servant Gets Even by Using Dynamite.

NOT A PERSON WAS INJURED

Roma the Scene of a Dastardly Plot Wherein an Hundred Lives Were Jeopardized.—The Wreck.

Roma, Jan. 22.—Dynamite bombs exploded almost simultaneously this afternoon before the Hotel d'Angleterre and in the garden of the proprietor's house in Via San Claudio. The hotel was wrecked. Plaster was shaken from the walls and ceilings, beams were sprung from the walls, and the floors of several rooms sagged two or three feet before the occupants could run out. Every window and every piece of crockery, glass and bric-a-brac in the hotel was smashed. The front wall was cracked in three places to the second floor, and at the door, where the bomb exploded, a large hole was torn.

Nobody was injured, although the hotel had more than 100 lodgers at the hour of the explosion. The people ran out into the street without waiting to take money or jewelry. They were surrounded at once by a crowd, and a company of gendarmes was required to keep them all clear of the street in front of the hotel.

Scared to Death.
At first the front wall was expected to fall. After an examination, however, the commissary announced that there was no immediate danger. Several women refused to return and their belongings were cared for by the police. Before night all had left for other hotels.

The proprietor said this evening that the contents were almost a total loss. Not a whole piece of furniture was left of the building, walls of houses near the hotel were cracked and all the windows were broken.

The proprietor's house near the Via San Claudio was less damaged. All windows were smashed for a distance of 100 yards on every side. No walls were cracked, however, and but for the breaking of glassware, crockery and furniture, little harm was done. Nobody was injured, the family had left home for the afternoon. Immediately after the explosion the report went abroad that the anarchists were again at work. The proprietor of the hotel d'Angleterre, however, says that it is identical to the last explosion. The explosion was caused by a man whom he discharged recently from his service.

ARTON SAFE.

Bourgeois Kindly Keeps Back the Warrant Until He Is Free.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—The Gil Blas says the warrant for the arrest of Arton, the Panama lobbyist, supposed to have bribed 104 deputies with 1,350,000 francs, was issued yesterday. The air of authority with which the statement is made has excited considerable surprise, in view of M. Bourgeois' declaration in the chamber on January 16, when he was hard pressed by Deputy Millevoye, that the warrant had been issued on January 7. The Gil Blas says that Arton is known to have left France some time ago and is now believed to be in Rome. As France has no extradition treaty with Romania, Arton would there be beyond reach of French law. Considerable surprise is expressed that M. Bourgeois should have held back with this warrant until Arton found time to place himself on his dangerous ground. The St. Cloud states that M. Franqueville, examining magistrate, has recommended the prosecution of sixteen persons whom he has examined.

More Cholera Deaths.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—The outbreak of cholera in the Nietleben asylum in Halle continues to cause great anxiety. From noon yesterday to noon today fifteen cases and nine deaths were reported to the authorities. Prof. Koch is hard at work in Halle trying to ascertain the source of the outbreak. He has sent specimens of bacilli found in different patients to the Berlin bacteriological institution for thorough examination.

To Call Corrigan Down.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: "It is expected that Archbishop Corrigan of New York will receive a severe admonition from the Pope in regard to his opposition to Archbishop Satolli and Archbishop Ireland. It has been decided that the new papal delegate will reside in Washington."

Most Be Polygons.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 22.—General Gourko, Russian general of Warsaw, has granted German employees in factories in Russian Poland one more year in time to learn the Russian language. In case they do not know the language in January, 1894, they will be expelled.

"Financier" Arrested.

ROME, Jan. 22.—M. Cucciollo, manager of the Bank of Naples, was arrested today for the embezzlement of 2,000,000 lire. He was disguised as a priest when recognized by the police.

DINED SATOLLI.

Bishop Keen Gives a Banquet to a Select Few.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Bishop Keen, bishop of the Catholic university here, where Mr. Satolli's permanent headquarters are established, gave a special dinner in honor of the designation of Mr. Satolli as permanent apostolic delegate to the United States. The guests included Dr. McElroy and his friends, the bishop of St. Augustine, Fla., and the faculty of the university. The speeches at the dinner, which were all delivered in Latin, were both animated and interesting.

Bishop Keen, speaking of the apostolic delegate's mission to the United States, said in substance: "I was recently asked to illustrate by a comparison the relations of this office to the church of the United States. I answered that the two sections of the fast east bound meat train on the Pennsylvania road occurred this morning at Anby, near here. The second section was running at the rate of forty-five miles an hour and telegraphed four cars. Engineer Mike Maloney of the second section was killed, and Freeman E. J. Price was seriously injured."

TO MAKE IT SURE

Congress Wants All Certificates of Election Uniform.

PRESENT PLAN A FAILURE

Presidential Electors, Senators and Representatives Will Use the Same Kind of Blank—Good Idea.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The missing certificates of the electoral college of fourteen states, which ought to have been delivered by special messenger into the hands of the president of the senate before the fourth Monday in January, have none of them come in today, and may be expected tomorrow. Obviously the intention of the law, in providing that one set of certificates should be sent by mail, and another should be forwarded by duly authorized special messenger, endorsed on the outside with the names of the electors sending it, was to provide for the verification, by the house of congress, of the certificates sent by mail, by their counterparts delivered by hand by a trustworthy messenger.

BISHOP DWENGER DEAD.

The Venerable Indiana Prelate Dies Full of Years and Piety.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 22.—The Rt. Rev. Joseph Dwenger, bishop of the diocese of Fort Wayne, died tonight at 10:35 of organic disease of the heart, from which he has been an invalid for three years. Bishop Dwenger was born in Mercer county, Ohio, in 1837. He studied at Mount St. Mary's seminary in Cincinnati and was ordained priest by Archbishop Purcell in 1859. He taught for three years in the seminary of the priests of the order of the Precious Blood in Carthage, O., and was appointed pastor of Wapakoneta in 1862.

In 1864 he moved to St. Mary, Ohio, built the church there and finished the churches of Celina, Kenton and Six Mile settlement. His pastoral charge was given up in 1883, and his time was thenceforth wholly devoted to traveling in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana and holding preaching stations.

He was consecrated bishop of Fort Wayne, or northern Indiana, April 14, 1872, succeeding Bishop Luers. During the bishop's illness the affairs of the diocese have been administered by Vice General Joseph H. Brammer. Bishop Dwenger was distinguished as a theologian and for his charities. A catalogue for the reception of his remains will be built under the cathedral, and the funeral consequently cannot be held for a week or more.

AGAIN LEADVILLE.

The Long Sought, Long Expected Strike Has Been Made.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 22.—The most important mineral strike made in Colorado for some time is that in the Bolin shaft at Leadville, where the city of Leadville rests on valuable silver deposits. The abundance of water has heretofore hindered the work, but now that ore is beginning to pay the old shaft, which has been lying idle, will be put to work. The Bolin shaft is clear of water and shipments will begin at once.

TOMORROW MORNING THE FAMOUS BASICK MINE NEAR SILVER CLIFF WILL PRESENT

scenes of activity and the work of pumping out the water will begin. This mine has been closed for ten years or more on account of litigation, but a company with ex-Senator Warner Miller of New York at the head, has gained possession and will open it up at once. It is estimated that the mine produced $2,200,000, and there are many more mines in sight.

CATTLEMAN WIN.

The Famous Wyoming Rustler Case Thrown Out of Court.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 22.—The case of the cattleman who, some months ago, invaded Johnson county for the purpose of exterminating the so-called rustlers and cattle thieves, and in the attempt killed two men named Champion and Rice, and burned several buildings, and were in turn corralled by the soldiers, only escaped with their lives by the aid of United States troops, was yesterday thrown out of court. The fight has lasted nine months, and has cost both sides $300,000.

Poor Betty Orday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Betina Gerard, or as she is known to the public, Mrs. Arthur Padelford, the divorced wife of a Baltimore millionaire and the daughter of Gen. Albert Orday, is ill at a private hospital in West Forty-third street, and is said to be suffering from a cancer. Mrs. Padelford has been before the public in a variety of ways. She let a young diplomat drink champagne from her pink satin slipper at White Sulphur Springs and horsewhipped her manager. She appeared with the Conrod Opera company and later attempted to star, but failed.

Two Sunday Fires.

ELWOOD, Ind., Jan. 22.—The McBeth lamp due works, the largest of the kind in the world, were destroyed by fire tonight. The warehouses were saved. Six hundred men will be thrown out of employment. The loss is $100,000; fully insured.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22.—The Py-canna's Magnolia, Miss. special says: "The last night destroyed Magnolia house, a general merchandise store, with all their contents, a saloon, a barber shop, and a bakery. Loss, $30,000; insurance, light."

Railroad Held Responsible.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—Timothy Houlton, one of the Big Four car regulars who left East St. Louis for the scene of the Wean wreck yesterday and who was brought back in the evening horribly burned, died last night. The corner's jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts, holding the railroad company responsible for the reason that it ordered the deceased, its servant, to work in a place so dangerous to his life.

Mincod Meat.

PERK, Ind., Jan. 22.—A rear end collision between the two sections of the fast east bound meat train on the Pennsylvania road occurred this morning at Anby, near here. The second section was running at the rate of forty-five miles an hour and telegraphed four cars. Engineer Mike Maloney of the second section was killed, and Freeman E. J. Price was seriously injured.

Business Houses Burned.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 22.—Fire this morning at 4:30 o'clock destroyed Samuel Keene's dry goods house on Main street, and badly damaged Cook's grocery. Hase & Barnett's notions store and Harry Joseph's clothing store. The total loss, $150,000; insurance, $50,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

SYMPHONY AND DIRGE IN ONE

The Pitiful Tale of a Musician, Two Shattered Homes and a De-throned Intellect.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Tracked across the continent, the clue lost and picked up a dozen times, and the guilty party finally found by the injured husband, is the sequel to an elopement in high life from Seattle, Wash. The parties in the affair are Mrs. Nina D'Heiry, wife of the assistant attorney general of the state of Washington; Edward C. Morse, a music teacher, and the injured husband, Paul D'Heiry.

WORD OF DANCOLES.

Clark's Chance For the Montana Senatorship Hangs By a Hair.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 22.—Members of the legislature are becoming restless over the protracted balloting for United States senator, because the fruitless contest is delaying legislation. It is learned today that all of the populists are willing to vote for any democrat except Clark. They are now voting for Dixon and the third for Collins, late candidate for governor, Dixon, however, cannot secure all the Clark men, and so is practically out of the race.

An effort will be made tomorrow to get Marcus Daly to consent to the withdrawal of Dixon. If this can be accomplished the Clark men are ready to go to some other candidate. There is a revival of the talk today to nominate Hansen, who was magnanimously given out of the way by Clark in the caucus. Davidson, the sick member, is expected to be in his seat tomorrow, but an election is improbable before Tuesday or Wednesday.

WOMEN'S LIST.

Nearly Every Man There Wants to Go to the Senate.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 22.—A Cheyenne special to the Republican says: There seems to be more of a grand mix in the senatorial contest today than ever before. The only caucus of which there is any knowledge has been held by the populists. They selected "Bill" to all the sheriffs and county candidates, but if rumors are to be believed, will likely switch to "Bill" Hinton of Vinton, their leader. He has come in from the east with a senatorial bee as big as a balloon.

Workers for A. L. New claim that he will go into the fight with twenty votes, but eight is the largest that can be counted. Next to him will be among the democrats, Judge Corn, W. H. Holliday, George W. Baxter, W. L. Kuykendall, George T. Beck, L. Kabis, C. F. Organ, Governor Osborne, A. C. Campbell, Nellie Corbett, John Carroll and others. They are saying today that while Baxter gained a vote when Pickett was seated in the house last, he has been utterly doomed by the discovery of a petition for martial law in the north during the cattle troubles. Campbell and Carroll, however, have been unable to get an interview with a single one of the Johnson county delegates. About fifty of Judge Corn's friends, most of whom are bent on scalping A. L. New alive, have arrived from Evanston, the home of both these candidates.

STANDPIPE RUINED.

Ashville Has a Mountain Torrent for a Little While.

ASHVILLE, N. C., Jan. 22.—The standpipe containing the city's water supply, situated on the mountain side, burst this morning. It was nearly 100 feet high and forty feet in circumference, with a capacity of 750,000 gallons. There were about forty-five feet of water in the pipe at the time of the collapse, which went rushing down the mountain side with terrific force. A negro sleeping in the basement of an old house was awakened by the rush of water. No lives were lost. The loss to the city is about $12,000. The water was at once turned into the reservoir and the city was only out of water a few hours.

WEAKER EACH DAY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—That Mr. Blaine is weaker is the only knowledge his physicians gained of any change in his condition today. He is apparently about the same as he has been several days. His retention of consciousness does not appear to be better or worse, but the doctors have noted a slight loss of strength each day. Dr. Hyatt called this morning and Dr. Johnson paid a visit to the patient this afternoon.

MURPHY, THE SILENT.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 22.—Senator-elect Edward Murphy, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Murphy and their three children, is at the Southern hotel.
